We are intimately connected with all that exists beyond physical time and space – with the spirits, ancestors, and ancient knowledges living in the lands, waters, our bodies, and the stars.

Many people's encounters with the unseen realms are hidden away, often silenced by self-doubts and fears, often buried beneath worries about what others will think.

Your experiences with the nonlinear realms may come through dreams, through connection with loved ones who have died, in encounters with animals or birds or trees or rocks or bodies of water, through ceremony and meditations, in getting close up with death and birth.

Your stories deserve sacred space and expression.

Join me for ceremony, story-sharing, and art-making. Discover the gifts and medicines ready to be gathered up from your personal experiences. What healing and guidance does this bring to your life now at this particular time on the earth?

JoAnne Dodgson's life is centered in the lineage of Ka Ta See and the path of the kala keh nah seh ~ healer, teacher, ceremonial guide, bone thrower, medicine storyteller, and weaver of webs of balance. She has a doctorate in Counseling Psychology with a specialty in Holistic Health. She lives in the enchanted desert mesas of New Mexico.
